Kearsarge Pass Trail

Kearsarge Pass Trail climbs from Onion Valley (9,200 ft) to Kearsarge Pass (11,700 ft). The pass is a popular destination for day hikers. Along the way, the trail passes through pine forests and by a series of small lakes. Beyond Kearsarge Pass, the trail enters Kings Canyon National Park, where it joins the John Muir and Pacific Crest Trails. It also provides access to the Rae Lakes Loop.

Access:

From Highway 395, in Independence, CA, turn west onto Market Street, also known as "Onion Valley Road". The trailhead is located at the end of Onion Valley Rd. approximately 15 miles west of Independence. The road is paved and suitable for standard passenger vehicles.

Season:

Relatively snow free from approximately June through October.

Onion Valley Road is closed due to snow from approximately November to April.

Trailhead Facilities:

Water: Yes

Bear Resistant Food Storage Lockers: Yes

Camping Options: The nearest developed campground is Onion Valley Campground, located 100 yards from the trailhead.

On The Trail:

Food Storage: Food, trash and scented items must be stored in bear-resistant containers.

Human Waste: Bury human waste 6'-8' deep in soil, at least 100' from campsites, trails, and water.
